“Winning in the Flat World”

A Presentation and Conversation With
S.D. Shibulal

Chief Operating Officer, Infosys Technologies, Ltd.

Retain your competitive edge in an ever changing global market. The combination of globalization, technology, changing global demographics, emerging economies and the accompanying socio-cultural forces are fundamentally changing the way companies must operate if they want to win in the flat world. Learn about INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES and how to leverage opportunities presented in the flat world!

One of the seven founders of Infosys, a global provider of IT and consulting services, S.D. Shibulal is responsible for fostering innovation, leadership, teamwork and work values. Today Infosys is credited with creating the global delivery model that became the foundation of IT outsourcing in India. Infosys has rapidly expanded its presence in North America, which accounts for more than 60% of its sales. With 90,000 people in more than twenty countries and annual revenues exceeding $4 billion, Infosys has been recognized as one of the world's best and most innovative organizations by Forbes, BusinessWeek, and WIRED.
